HAMILTON COLLEGE.

Admission.

It is required that the candidates for admission to the Freshman Class should not be less than fifteen years of age, with a corresponding increase for an advanced standing; that they furnish evidence of good moral character; and if from another College, a regular dismission; and that they sustain a satisfactory examination on the Preparatory Studies, or for an advanced class, on the several studies to which the class they propose to enter has attended. None can be admitted into the Senior Class after the winter vacation.

Preparatory Studies.

In Greek: Xenophon's Anabasis, two books; Homer's Iliad, one book; with the Greek Grammar, including prosody and the rules for pronunciation according to the Continental method.

In Latin: Cæsar's Commentaries, four books; Virgil's Æneid, six books with prosody; Cicero's Select Orations; Sallust's Cataline; and either Sallust's Jugurthine War, or the Eclogues of Virgil; with the Latin Grammar and Arnold's Latin Prose Composition, twelve chapters.

In Mathematics: Arithmetic, Algebra to Equations of the second degree; Plane Geometry.

Candidates will also be examined in English Grammar, Ancient and Modern Geography, History of the United States, and in Greek and Roman Antiquities. A Regents' Certificate of Academic Scholarship will be accepted in lieu of an examination in English Studies.

The Entrance Examinations are held at 9 o'clock, A. M., on Monday and Tuesday preceding Commencement, and on the last day of the ensuing vacation.

Candidates for admission to College should bring with them, to the Senior Class Room, pencils for writing, and a copy of each Greek and Latin Author in which they propose to be examined.

Course of Instruction.

The whole Course of Instruction occupies four years, and the Students, in all the classes, are usually required to attend three exercises on each day.

The object of the course is to form the mind to habits of accurate discrimination, close reasoning, and vigorous application; and, at the same time, furnish it with the leading facts and principles in Literature, Science, and the Arts.

Rhetorical Exercises.

Weekly exercises in Composition and Extemporaneous Debate take place in the several classes. Besides these, on Wednesday and Saturday of each week, all the Students are required to attend public exhibitions in the Chapel, of Declamation, and of Original Essays, Disputes and Orations, under the direction and criticism of the Kingsley Professor of Rhetoric.

Chemistry.

Through the munificence of the late Mr. Silas D. Childs, of Utica, the Chemical Laboratory has recently undergone extensive alterations, and is supplied with new and valuable apparatus.

The Senior Class, besides receiving instruction both by lectures and recitations in general Chemistry, will in accordance with the will of Mr. Childs, receive a thorough course of instruction in Chemistry as applied in Agriculture.

During a portion of the year, instruction in qualitative chemical analysis, will be given at stated hours to those members of the Senior Class who may choose to pursue this study.

Apparatus and chemicals will be furnished to the students at wholesale prices.

The facilities of the Laboratory will be such, that those who may desire to continue the study of Chemistry, after their graduation, will have an opportunity.

Astronomy.

As a means of giving more complete instruction in this Department, and also for the purpose of original observation, an Astronomical Observatory has been erected on the College grounds. The Astronomical Department and the Observatory have been very liberally endowed by the Hon. Edwin C. Litchfield, LL. D., of Brooklyn.

The Observatory consists of a central building, with wings on the east and west side. The central building is twenty-seven feet square, and two stories high, surmounted by a revolving tower, twenty feet in diameter.

The great Equatorial in the tower, constructed by Spencer & Eaton, has an object-glass of 13.5 inches in diameter, and focal length of nearly sixteen feet; it is provided with six positive and six negative eye-pieces, with a ring and a filar micrometer. For solar observations it has a prismatic polarizing eye-piece of original construction by Robert B. Tolles. The declination circle of twenty-four inches, by means of four verniers, reads to four seconds of arc: the hour circle, of fourteen inches, by means of two verniers, reads to two seconds of time. The instrument is mounted upon a granite shaft, nine feet in height, resting upon a pier of solid masonry. A clock work with Bond's isodynamic escapement and spring governor, causes the telescope to follow the daily motion of the stars by acting upon long arms attached to the equatorial axis.

The wings are each eighteen feet square: the east room is used as an office for the Director. In the west room is mounted a portable Transit Instrument, of 2½ inches aperture, the gift of Hon. Anson S. Miller, LL. D., of Rockford, Ill., and constructed by W. Wurdemann, of Washington, D. C. It has a cast-iron folding stand, invented by the maker.

Near the Transit is an Astronomical Clock, constructed by William Bond & Son, Boston, and presented by the late Hon. Wm. Curtis Noyes, of New York. It is regulated for mean time, and provided with the break-circuit for telegraphic operations. By the side of the Clock is a Chronograph of Bond's most recent construction, and regulated by the spring governor, presented by Michael Moore, Esq., of Trenton Falls. These instruments have been connected by a telegraphic wire with the nearest station; and the longitude of the Observatory has thus been accurately determined by exchanging star signals with the Harvard College Observatory, at Cambridge, Mass.

In its turn, the Litchfield Observatory already has become the basis of several longitudes in the State, determined under the auspices of the Regents of the University, at Buffalo, Syracuse, Elmira, Ogdensburgh, and of the longitude of the Detroit Observatory at Ann Arbor, Mich., which latter forms the fundamental point for the longitudes of the Lake Survey. The latest work of this kind has been to determine the longitude of the western boundary of the State of New York.

Besides, the Observatory possesses a Siderial Chronometer, constructed by the same makers, with the Hartnup's improved compensation balance: this instrument was the gift of the late Hon. George Underwood, of Auburn.

A Morse Telegraphic Apparatus also has been presented by Mr. S. W. Chubbuck, of Utica, and an Aneroid Barometer, by the late Simeon Benjamin, Esq., of Elmira.

In order to observe the total eclipse of the sun, August 7, 1869, Mr. Edwin C. Litchfield presented a fine portable telescope, so that an expedition could be organized, and proceed from this Observatory to Des Moines, Iowa. The cost of the expedition was likewise defrayed by the liberality of Mr. Litchfield. The telescope, the make of Messrs. Steinheil Sons, of Munich, has 4 (French) inches aperture, 5 feet focal length, and is mounted parallactically on a solid iron tripod, with setting circles for right ascension and declination, and has also a tangent screw for following the daily motion of a star. It has two terrestrial and six astronomical eye-pieces, (varying in power from 40 to 360,) a ring and a scale micrometer, and a sliding wedge for moderating the light. There is, moreover, fitting to the eye tube a direct vision spectroscope, with five prisms, for analyzing the light of the sun and its protuberances. The telescope, when established in a proper location, it is thought, will be particularly useful for the exercise of studenta, who may make astronomy a special study.

The following eleven Asteroids were first discovered at the Litchfield Observatory:

Feronia, No. 72, May 29, 1861,
Eurydice, No. 75, September 22, 1862,
Frigga, No. 77, November 12, 1862,
Io, No. 85, September 19, 1865,
Thisbe, No. 88, June 15, 1866,
Undine, No 92, July 7, 1867,
Ianthe, No. 98, April 18, 1868,
Miriam, No. 102, August 22, 1868,

Ate, No. 111, August 15, 1870,
Iphigenia, No. 112, September 19, 1870.

The Cabinets.

Geological and Mineralogical Cabinets, and Collections in Natural History, are also connected with the College, embracing the following, viz.:

1. 9,000 Specimens of Ores and Simple Minerals.

Sartwell Herbarium.

Through the liberality of the late Hamilton White, Esq., of Syracuse, the College Collections in Natural History have been enriched by the Herbarium collected by the late Dr. H. P. Sartwell, of Penn Yan, and well known in scientific circles as a very extensive and valuable exhibition of our North American Flora. This Herbarium is the result of fifty years of botanical study, research and correspondence. It contains eight thousand samples of plants, skillfully cured, accurately labelled, and conveniently classified in sixty-two handsome volumes. Among the more unique or useful specimens are 451 Mosses, 226 Lichens, 341 Sea-Weeds, 600 Fungi, 575 Ferns, 314 Grasses, 200 Ericaceæ.

The College Grounds.

The Park, in the midst of which the College edifices stand, embraces fifteen acres. This has been laid out in the Modern English method, with trees and shrubs scattered over it, singly and in groups, and with carriage-ways and foot-paths winding through its different parts, giving the visitor a view of the entire surface. The trees, deciduous and evergreen, have been arranged chiefly with a view to their landscape effects, though a classification in families has not been wholly lost sight of. A Pinetum has been begun, in which a large number of the conifers, hardy in this climate, may already be found. Among the Elms, Maples, Lindens, Oaks, &c., we have five or six varieties of each.

In those portions of the ground daily traversed by the students, plots have been laid off and devoted to sbrubs, vines, and flowering plants, some of which are cultivated by the undergraduates.

It is the design of the Trustees and the Faculty to render the Park increasingly attractive from year to year. New trees and plants will be added to the present collection as fast as they can be obtained. And for the more speedy accomplishment of this end, contributions are invited from the friends of the Institution. The Curators of the College Grounds are JOHN C. HASTINGS, Esq., Prof. OREN ROOT, and Rev. A. D. GRIDLEY. Communications on this subject may be addressed to either of these gentlemen.

Religious Instruction.

Morning Prayers, with reading of the Scriptures are attended daily in the College Chapel. Public services are attended in the Chapel on the Sabbath, when all the students are required to be present, except such as have permission to attend at other places of worship. On Sabbath and Tuesday evenings there are religious services which all the students are invited to attend. A Church has been organized on such principles as to embrace members from various Evangelical Denominations. For the promotion of their spiritual good and highest usefulness, it is desirable that all professors of religion coming to the Institution should bring letters and connect themselves with the College Church.

A systematic course of Biblical Instruction is arranged for the several classes, a statement of which may be found in the General View of the studies of the year.

The Society of Christian Research holds its meetings monthly, when reports are read on the condition of Christian Missions in various parts of the world, and questions of religious interest are discussed.

The Libraries.

The College and Society Libraries, amounting to 12,000 volumes, are at all times accessible to students.

A few gentlemen in the city of New York have presented to the College the private library of the late EDWARD ROBINSON, D. D., LL.D., of Union Theological Seminary. It consists of 1,420 volumes, and about 100 valuable maps; and furnishes rare facilities for the study of Biblical Exegesis and Scriptural Geography.

Hon. WILLIAM CURTIS NOYES, LL. D., a native of Oneida county, and an honorary alumnus of the College, after a life of eminent service, professional and political, bequeathed to Hamilton College his Law Library. The collection numbers about five thousand volumes. The books had been collected during a practice of over twenty-five years, at a cost of not less than sixty thousand dollars. "The Collection consists of all the American Reports, with scarcely an exception, down to the present time; of all the English Reports in the Courts of Law and Chancery, and in the Exchequer, down to the beginning of the year 1860; and all the Scotch decisions, in the Judiciary, Senior Courts, and House of Lords; and the Irish Reports in Law and Equity.

In Elementary Law, it contains all the principal treatises in England and America, among which is the 'Law Library,' in all the series, in upwards of ninety volumes.

It contains a complete set, in upwards of seventy volumes, of the printed statutes of the Colony and State of New York, including the Session laws from the earliest period, commencing with a copy of Bradford's, printed in London, in 1719, which formerly belonged to Lord De la Warr, and seems to have come from the plantation office in the colony.

There is hardly any law book which a lawyer in large practice may have occasion to consult, that may not be found in this collection."

The NOYES LIBRARY is at all times accessible to Members of the Bar.

A new building for the Library is nearly completed. In honor of the principal contributor to the fund for its erection, Hon. PERRY H. SMITH, of Chicago, of the Class of 1846, the building is named the "Perry H. Smith Library Hall." The alumni of the College in Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa, have also been filial and generous in their gifts.

The building is two stories high above the basement: 75 feet long and 50 broad. The first floor above the basement is divided into the vestibule and hall, two rooms for the librarian, and the library proper. The alcoves in the library room are arranged in three tiers, one above another, and with the adjacent walls and the librarian's rooms will furnish a place for 60,000 volumes. The library is lighted by windows in the side walls and by skylights.

Over the entrance hall and Librarian's rooms, there is an apartment for a Memorial Hall and Art Gallery, to contain tablets and portraits of the alumni and students of the College who have served their country; also portraits and other memorials of the founders of the College, its officers and benefactors. Architect, EDWARD D. HARRIS, of the firm of RIDER & HARRIS, Boston.

In addition to the preceding, any damages voluntarily committed in the community of students, are charged to the individuals or classes committing them, when known; to the whole body of students when not known, under the name of Extra Contingent Expenses.

The preceding estimate of expense is, of course, considerably diminished in the case of those students who take advantage of the resolution of the Board of Trustees, which provides for a remission of their bills for tuition.

A student admitted to an advanced standing, unless from another College, is charged with a matriculation fee: to the Sophomore Class, $7; to the Junior, $10; to the Senior, $12.

Payment of Bills.

It is provided by a resolution of the Board of Trustees:

1. That all students be required to pay their term bills in advance, and that no student be admitted to the recitation room after the first week of the term, unless his bills have been paid or arranged to the satisfaction of the Treasurer.

2. That no student have an honorable dismission from the College or certificate of his previous attendance in it, until all his bills are paid or satisfactorily secured.

3. That in extreme cases, a student whose circumstances render it necessary, and who shall present satisfactory testimonials of the fact to the Executive Committee, if he is a worthy member of College, and his undergraduate course is completed in this Institution, can have his bills for tuition remitted.

Matriculation.

Students are not considered regular members of College, until a residence of at least three months has furnished evidence of a good moral character.

At the close of the first term after admission, if their conduct has been satisfactory, new students are allowed to enter their names in the Matriculation Book. The Laws of College provide for the withdrawal of any, who within a specified time, fail to prove themselves worthy of Matriculation.

Second Degrees.

Graduates of three years' standing, are entitled to the degree of Master of Arts, on application to the President. The fee for the Degree and Diploma is $5, payable in advance.

Absence from College.

The portion of the year allotted to vacations is so great as to render it quite unnecessary for students to visit their friends during the term, except for urgent and unforeseen reasons. The occasional loss of a day cannot fail to have an unfavorable bearing on the intellectual habits and standing of the student It is hoped that parents and guardians will concur with the Faculty in their opinion of the inexpediency of granting leave of absence in ordinary cases. During vacations, the College buildings are closed; and it is not thought desirable that students from abroad should remain in Clinton.

Every omitted recitation must be recited within two weeks after the student's return to College duties; and no deduction for absence will be made in the Term bills, where the student returns to the same class which he left.

Members of the Senior Class cannot be graduated, unless they have been in attendance during two terms of the Senior year. No student is permitted to take part in the exercises of Commencement day, who has not spent the Third Term of his Senior year in College, and made his preparation also in College.

Teaching.

Students whose circumstances make it necessary for them to take schools during the Winter season, are permitted to be absent from their classes for that purpose. Any student who has the requisite gifts, may support himself by teaching during the Winter months. In 1869 forty-two calls for teachers were supplied from the classes of that year.

The Faculty keep a Register of Graduates and Undergraduates wishing engagements to teach, and will aim to nominate suitable candidates in reply to applications for teachers. Applicants for teachers should state definitely what service will be required, and what compensation will be paid.

Beneficiaries.

The interest of the Baldwin Fund of $12,000, presented in November, 1867, by John C. Baldwin, Esq., of Orange, N. J., will be annually distributed to needy students of Christian character and good scholarship.

Students who are candidates for the Christian Ministry, may receive aid, if their circumstances require it, to the amount of from one hundred to one hundred and thirty dollars a year, by placing themselves under the care of the Presbyterian Church, or under that of the American Education Society.

For aid rendered to candidates for the Christian Ministry, special acknowledgments are due to Christopher R. Robert, Esq., of New York city; Hon.

Samuel Campbell, of New York Mills; Hon. Truman P. Handy, of Cleveland, O.; Albert Porter, Esq., of Niagara Falls, N. Y.; and William E. Dodge, Jr., Esq., of New York city.

Scholarships.

Sixteen Permanent Scholarships, of $1,000 each, have been recently established, and will be hereafter occupied by deserving students.

Determination of Standing.

1. Each Instructor keeps a record of all College exercises in his department, according to a scale of merit ranging from ten to zero.

2. If a student who is present and prepared to recite, is not called at any exercise, he receives a credit equal to the average of his actual performances for that term.

3. For each exercise from which a student is absent and not excused, he is marked zero. If absent and excused, he may be permitted to recite within two weeks after his absence.

4. Lost exercises cannot be made good after the expiration of two weeks, without special permission from the Faculty.

5. In estimating the value of class exercises, promptness and regularity are regarded as a merit; and all exercises performed out of their regular time are liable to a discount, if the circumstances seem to require it.

Law Department.

REV. SAMUEL GILMAN BROWN, D.D., LL.D., PRESIDENT.

ELLICOTT EVANS, LL. D.,

MAYNARD PROFESSOR OF LAW, HISTORY, CIVIL POLITY AND POLITICAL ECONOMY.

The course of Instruction in Law includes the thorough and careful study of the most approved text-books. Among these are Blackstone's and Kent's Commentaries, Parsons on Contracts, Washburn's Law of Real Estate, Greenleaf on Evidence, vol. 1st, and the Code of Procedure.

The great object aimed at is to store the mind of the student with the fundamental principles of the Law. This is to be accomplished in such a way that he can give, at any time, a full and accurate expression of legal rules. The text-books are to be so mastered that any question may be answered readily and with exactness. Reviews of previous exercises are often repeated, until the student becomes as familiar with the rudiments of Law as with the rudiments of a language. At each exercise every student is examined on the subject studied, and expected to give the results of the text in his own words.

The Professor connects oral and familiar lectures with each recitation, putting cases to the class, involving the principles of the text, and requiring a solution; and endeavoring in every manner which may suggest itself, to quicken and interest the student by exciting his own mind to continual action. Instead of the fitful and intermittent studies of the law office, pursued often in confusion and amidst other circumstances tending to distract the mind, the student studies law as he does any other science, with a systematic purpose and plan. Experience has proved by its unfailing tests, that on such a basis, underlying the superstructure of a careful practice, sound and accurate lawyers will be formed.

Any person of good moral character, who complies with the rules of the department, may join the class. The prescribed course of study for College graduates is one year; for those not graduated, one year and one-third. After having passed the regular course of study, and the examination prescribed by the rules of the College, the student is entitled to the degree of Bachelor of Laws. No other examination is necessary for admission to the Bar. By the Laws of 1855, chap. 310, every graduate of the Law School is entitled to a certificate to practice as an Attorney and Counsellor of the Supreme Court. The terms of tuition are $20 per term, or $60 per year, with a graduation fee of $5.

Students who do not wish to graduate, can remain any number of terms which they may choose, or study any one of the subjects embraced in the course. The order of studies in the principal subjects is: the Law of Contracts, in the Fall term; of Real Estate, in the Winter term; of Real Estate completed, Evidence, etc., in the Spring term.

Text-books are furnished by the Institution, and loaned to the student without charge, with the exception of Blackstone and Kent.

It has the use of an alcove in the College Library, to which donations are solicited of books, pamphlets and papers, whose authors are Alumni of Hamilton. It seeks also the promotion of friendly feeling and sympathy among its living members, and the rendering of fit honor to the departed.
